

How to RegROUT The Floor Tiles

RegROUTing tiles is a cakewalk. The method is easy, anyone can complete this task. Moreover, the tools and material required for regROUTing are easily available.

Start with removing the old grout

Before regrouting, first, remove the old grout and free the gaps from all the dirt and debris. Use a grout saw and completely remove the grout before regrouting.

Choose the colour of the grout according to the colour of the tile

The colour of grout matters, using a different colour grout will look odd. If you've fixed the tiles yourself and the aligning is not accurate, use matching colour grout on tiles.

There are two varieties of grout:
Sanded and Unsanded Grout.

If the gaps between the tiles are larger than 3 mm, sanded grout is used. While, unsanded grout is used to fill the crack, mainly joints.
